

VisionQuest History

The VisionQuest Recovery Society was incorporated in 1995. It first came to the attention of the public in 1997.

In that year the VisionQuest Canoe Journey took place. This was a one thousand mile journey from Hazelton to Victoria, coinciding with the 1997 Tribal Journeys and the North American Aboriginal Games. The journey brought together people from many diverse backgrounds.

RCMP S/Sgt. Ed Hill and noted West Coast artist Roy Henry Vickers had the vision of seeing the opening of a facility for the treatment and healing of addictive personalities.

Since 1997, the Society has continued to work towards its vision of creating safe places for people of all nations to recover from the abuses in their lives.

VQ Harte Outpatient Program

Our purpose is to provide supportive Recovery services in a safe, therapeutic environment, helping clients to successfully reintegrate back into society.

“Recovery, a life worth living”

About us

VisionQuest was founded on the concept that recovery can be attained through a therapeutic approach, focusing on spiritual, mental, physical and emotional principles.

Our residents are given the opportunity to commence their healing journey through learning and living the 12 step philosophy as developed and practiced in the A.A and N.A programs.

How it began

“Sheep standing by himself by Roy Vickers”

Vickers was one of the original founders of VisionQuest in the 1990’s while working with the RCMP.

Proceeds from his work went towards sharing the dream of recovery from abuse, recovery of personal power, esteem, and transformation of the self.
